Different Ways To Explore North India Heritage Site

Mughal Art:

The influential Mughal Empire left its footprints on the North India soil in the form of glorious structures like Red Fort, Taj Mahal, Agra Fort, Qutub Minar, Humayun's Tomb and many more. Remarkably aesthetic, these monuments embody eternal splendour and are superlative in terms of architecture.

Momentous Icons:

From the invincible Gwalior Fort to the inimitable Khajuraho stone sculptures, this part of India is adorned with iconic manifestations. Equally charming are the ancient temples alongside the holy River Ganga and striking royal palaces and cenotaphs.

Old World Charm:

Old Delhi retains its charm with narrow bazaars, warm and welcoming people and buildings which are many decades old. Same is true about the rustic aura of Varanasi which instantly engrosses the visitors and transforms them into a different world.

Intriguing Activities:

Attending an evening prayer or taking bath in a holy river, every activity is exceedingly soothing in North India. Enjoy unforgettable boat rides, attend a colourful festival, relish on mouth-watering delicacies or go out on an elevating shopping spree.

Delhi: A national capital in designation, a metropolis at your face and a city deep-rooted in culture, Delhi is a complete entertainer. The city is dotted with attractions like Red Fort, Qutub Complex, Humayun's Tomb, India Gate, Jama Masjid, Lotus Temple, Raj Ghat and contemporary government buildings. Upscale shopping malls and lively entertainment venues complete the city's perfect picture.

Agra: The boastful home to Taj Mahal, one of the Seven Wonders of the World, Agra has captivating settings of a city that once acted as the base of Mughal Empire. Marvellous structures like tombs, forts, gardens, temples and mosques greet the visitors at every step. It is not possible to escape the delight of bazaars full of beautiful handicrafts and street food stalls offering spicy snacks.

Gwalior: The city that resides around the dominant Gwalior Fort, known as the Gibraltar of India, Gwalior is one of the finest gems of North India. With its assorted tourist attractions like Italian Garden Enclave, Gwalior Zoo, royal cenotaphs and a number of temples, tombs and memorials, the city is a favoured holiday destination. Engulfed in the rustic old world charisma, the city hosts carnivals, water sports, heritage walks and fabulous gourmet treats.

Varanasi: There is no better way to culminate a North India trip than visiting Varanasi, the city that occupies the sacred banks of River Ganga. Often called the city dedicated to Lord Shiva, Varanasi keeps one busy in activities like strolling along Ganga ghats (banks), praying at some of the oldest Hindu temples and taking holy dips in the sin-removing waters of Ganga.

Khajuraho: Time seems to stand still at Khajuraho where carved stones speak the language of love and erotica. It is unbelievable at the first sight how the artists from that time indulged into such superior display of talent. Visiting every temple of the Western, Eastern and Southern wings of Khajuraho is a must to gain an experience of the lifetime.

Orchha: A small historic town with big appeal, Orchha is full of royal grandeur and is straight from the world of fantasies. The gigantic fort complex houses embellished palaces and mystic temples and the markets boast of shops selling handicrafts and souvenirs.
